Innitou 2006

Twelve years have passed; they went so fast;
Here's the future, the future.

Now we depart, heavy our heart;
We'll remember, remember.

Memories we've known, shared as our own
While knowledge we were gaining.

Our lives will glide; memories will guide
As the future comes.

To Woburn High, we say goodbye
Now forever, forever.

Older in years, challenged by fears,
Now we leave you; we leave you.
We will succeed; valor we need
As we go forth tomorrow.

Old friends we part; new lives we start
In the years to come.

INNITOU 2006

Woburn Memorial High School

88 Monvale Avenue, Woburn, MA 01801

The name given to our yearbook, Innitou, has a significance that not many people are aware of. Incorporating both our memories from Woburn High School and the history of Horn Pond, the title Innitou has appeared on the cover of the yearbook since the first yearbook in 1947 and will appear on all those to follow.

Lake Innitou, or Horn Pond as we know it today, was formerly the site of the Native American tribe. As legend has it, the Native American known as Manitou, or the Great Spirit, lived atop Horn Pond Mountain, (Mount Towanda). From the top of the mountain he would gaze down at the water which appeared clear and unbroken. He would look upon his image reflected in the water. This is where Lake Innitou received its name; Innitou meaning "looking place of the great spirit". This also relates to our years spent here at Woburn High School.

This year's Innitou is the reflection of our days spent here and the memories we made at Woburn High. This class, the Class of 2006, will be the last class to ever graduate from this building. While this book commemorates our four years in high school, it also serves as a historical view to Woburn High School's past. Exactly one hundred years after its construction, the building will be torn down and all that will remain will be our memories.

The 2006 Yearbook staff sincerely hopes that you enjoy this book and will value it not only of our four years, but as a documentation of the last hundred fifty years of our Woburn High School.

nce upon a time

in a place not so far away, a discovery was made. It was a rather unexpected discovery in a rather unexpected place. At first, those who had found it were not exactly sure what it was they had uncovered or where it came from.

They soon realized, however, that they had literally "dug up the past". It was early in 2004 that construction for a new Woburn Memorial High School first began. On one, chilly, January day, construction workers began the groundbreaking for the new school. Within a few short minutes of digging up the football field, they came across something no one knew was there. It turned out that former Woburn High students had preserved the past in a time capsule, a capsule full of their secrets, their memories, their youth.

The anxious construction workers immediately notified the principal of their find. The administration and seniors of the Class of 2006 got a chance of a lifetime to be present during this special moment. The class president was given the honor of prying open the capsule. They found an assortment of containers housing a treasure trove of memorabilia. Instantly, they were transported to a time over 100 years ago.

We have waited for this...

for a long time. We all knew it would come, but we never imagined it would come this quick. It seems like just the other day we began this journey, and now we have reached the end. The past four years have changed our lives. They have helped to make us who we are. Now it is our job to determine who we will become. For each of us the road ahead goes somewhere different. Some may know exactly where that road leads, while others are still unsure. Either way, we all have something in common. Every road began here at Woburn High School.

We spent our freshman year lost...

and trying to fit in. Our sophomore year came and went just being happy we were no longer freshman. Our junior year brought licenses and a newfound independence. Now here we are. Seniors - a word we have longed to be; a word our parents wished they would never hear. It may not have always been easy, but no one ever said it would be. We have made it through, and have so much to be proud of. It is now time to venture out into the real world, taking everything we have learned with us. But let us not forget the memories we have made. They are what will keep us going when the real world gets tough, or are just nice to have when we feel like smiling.

We have all had a case of the Mondays...

and those days we just did not want to get out of bed. There were the extremely long weeks and those never ending days. We have counted down the days until the next vacation and dreamed of summer in December. We have all crammed for a huge test the night before or waited until the last possible minute to start a research paper. Ahh, yes- the academic side of school; the reason we are all here in the first place. Would any of us have made it without our friends?

Amigos, Amis, Friends...

the source of what will be so many of our fondest memories and the reason we will look back on these times and smile. Whether it was a Friday night football game, a really great party, or just hanging out watching movies, memories of our friends are partly what have made high school what it has been. Some of us have made life long friendships, while some of us may never see each other again. While some of us have grown closer, others have grown apart. Either way, we have all grown up and we have done it together.

We now have the rest of our lives...

to look forward to with high school behind us. When we look back on the past four years, we will have made a lot of memories. Now it is time for goodbyes. Not only are we saying goodbye to each other, but we are saying goodbye to a building- a building that if its walls could talk, they would have quite a few stories to tell. As the last graduating class from this building we have a big responsibility.

We have the responsibility... to see that the legacy of Woburn High as we know it lives on. This yearbook is not only a manifestation of our four years here, but of the years of all those who walked the same halls we walked, who sat in the same class rooms where we sat, who made memories just like us. While this book is a symbol our four years, those who preceded us should not be forgotten.

A photograph of a person standing on a beach, facing the ocean. The sky is a vibrant sunset, transitioning from deep blue at the top to a warm orange and yellow near the horizon. The ocean is calm, reflecting the colors of the sky. The person is in the foreground, slightly to the left, their back to the viewer. They are wearing a dark, long-sleeved shirt and dark pants. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

...and in that moment, I swear we were infinite

Dedication

The Class of 2006, along with the Woburn Memorial High School staff dedicate this edition of the Innitou to Mrs. Randi Orpen. She is an outstanding teacher with over 30 years of service. She is actively involved in the school community by being advisor to the Interact Club, Peer Mediation, and a teacher mentor. From day one, Randi has had an impact on students from being a cheerleader coach to taking part in our Foreign Exchange program. She has organized wonderful events for the school such as the Giving Camp and Mix It Up Day.

Randi always greets students and staff with a big smile and a friendly hello. In the classroom, this Spanish teacher truly makes sure that all her students understand and appreciate the language. She is a role model for all of us.

his is our moment

As the students gingerly lifted the first aging box from the protective time capsule, they slowly but anxiously opened the beat-up old cardboard box. It was filled to the brim with old black and white class photographs. There was an old cap and gown, yearbooks dated from 1947 and other interesting materials from the 1800's.

Chances are if we were to look through old yearbooks, many of us would find siblings, parents, or even grandparents. Most of us are not the first in our families to graduate from these corridors. Symbolic of those seniors before us, this box reminds us that we are not the only ones who have been lucky enough to attend Woburn High School.

By now the photographs have faded and the yearbooks seem ancient, but that does not mean that those moments captured on film are meaningless. Thousands of students have graduated from this building in the past 100 years; each with their own memories, each leaving their own mark. The seniors of 2006 will be no different. The unfortunate truth is that we will be the last. Our Woburn High building will be replaced with a new one. Their legacy will live on through those who knew it best - the students.

There are three huge wall vaults that are located in the old buildings. Each vault contains student records that date back to the 1900's. Looking at the student records is like touching history. Some family professions listed were tannery workers, telephone operators, and greenhouse workers.

We have come a long way from over 100 years ago. The long list of graduates of WHS are contained in the numbers. In 1929 the class size was 124, in 1962 the class size was 250, in 1969 the class size was 502 and in 1976 the class size grew to an all time high of 735 students.

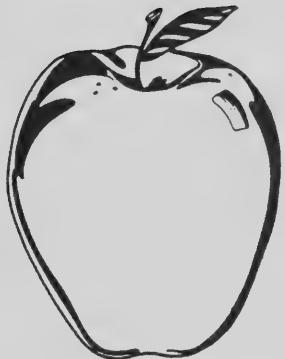

So, to the Class of 2006, enjoy looking back at the "funny" photos of your parents. Remember, they too have walked the halls that you have walked.

*One voice is missing from our ranks,
Too soon to silence gone.
We cannot fill the gap you left,
Through voices must move on.*

*We can laugh without you now
Bounce back as youth will do;
But your silence holds a part of us,'
Forever missing you.*

Summa Cum Laude.. Our Graduating Teachers

Mr. Dennis McElhiney - Social Studies

Began teaching: 1972 at Woburn High School

Why did you choose this profession:

“I liked the idea of dealing with young people.”

Memorable Event: “September 11, 2001.”

Funny Moment: “Having a gorilla show up in my classroom for my 40th birthday.”

“What are you going to miss about WMHS?

“Being with influencing young people and the many friends on the faculty that I have met.”

Famous last words: “It’s been a great run. It went by pretty fast. But this is not an ending, I’m just moving on!”

Mr. William J. McGrath - English

Began teaching: 1971 at the Kennedy Jr. High School

Why did you choose this profession:

“I enjoy the company of young people. I like the ideas of a job finishing or ending and then beginning fresh all over again.”

Memorable Event: “March 1, 1986 and its aftermath.”

“What are you going to miss about WMHS?

“I will miss the staff, many of whom I feel quite close too. I plan to retire; I do not plan to disappear!”

Famous last words: “The staff should embrace the friendships they have with each other. People on the outside do not really understand what we do and how we do it.”

Mr. Rocky Nelson - Physical Education

Began teaching: 1970 at the Joyce Jr. High School

“What are you going to miss about WMHS?

“I will miss the staff and students.”

Famous last words: “Good luck to the students and staff in the new high school.”

Mr. James McSweeney - Science

Began teaching: 1975 at the Kennedy Jr. High School.

Why did you choose this profession:

"I enjoyed science and working with young people."

Memorable Event:

"Being a Woburn High grad and returning as a teacher."

"What are you going to miss about WMHS?

"I will miss spending time with young people."

Famous last words: "Learn as many things as you can about as many things as possible. Learning new things is what makes life interesting."

Mr. Thomas Kasprzak - Guidance Councilor

Began teaching: 1970 at the Joyce Jr. High School.

Why did you choose this profession: "I was a former athlete who wanted to coach football as well as teach physical education."

Memorable Event: "Moving to guidance in the middle of the school year."

"What are you going to miss about WMHS?

"I will miss the friendships with colleagues and watching students grow."

Famous last words: "Enjoy!"

A hundred years from now it will not matter what my bank account was, the sort of house I lived in, or the kind of car I drove . . . but the world may be different because I was important in the life of a child.”

Class Will

We the class of 2006, being of sound mind and good judgement, do hereby ordain and establish our last will and testament as the last class to graduate from this historic building. We part with sadness for we no longer will be able to return to our high school as we have known it. We leave our everyday life of being a teenager with all the fond memories.

Here are some of our parting thoughts as we move onward and upward.

I, Renee LaPierre, willingly extend my knowledge of always being right, even when proved wrong.

I, Amanda Kendig, hereby will being the shortest of the class.

I, Alicia O'Donnell, hereby will my position as manager and recruiter of ABF to the most enthusiastic supporter of local bands.

I, Sharath Kumar, being of sound mind and body, will my ability to do absolutely nothing and still pass by.

I, Marianne Neergaard, hereby will my sincerest apologies to those lucky freshmen who get Mr. Shukan.

I, Rachel Jeffrey, hereby will tripping over the pointless doorstop between 6 and 2 building to all the freshmen with huge backpacks.

I, Kiala, McTague, hereby will all my artistic ability to all the freshman who cannot draw.

I, Jessie Cantone, hereby will the D4L.

I, Meghan Lutz, will my ability to always be tardy to class to my sister Carina.

I, Andrew Dawson, will Mitter Moose my new best friend to anyone who wants him.

I, Alfred Mungta, will my patience to all who don't have any.

I, CJ Petrou, being of sound mind and body, will my awesome sideburns and ability to make everyone think I'm a year ahead in life to any junior willing to explain that "No, I did not graduate last year."

I, Tom Holloran, hereby will my uncanny ability to get out of so many classes legitimately, to anyone who just can't sit still.

I, Kayleigh Ballachino, hereby will my dazzling off ability in math to anyone who would like that ability.

I, Katie Ellis, hereby will my parking space on Wade Street to anyone that doesn't mind getting their window smashed in.

I, Joe Haley, hereby will my awful car with no radio and a tape player with Queen's Greatest Hits still stuck in it.

I, Shannon McDonough, leave my "spot" in 3 building to anyone daring enough to continue the tradition.

I, Marty, leave my magical hockey shirt to anyone who thinks they can play some nasty puck.

I, Timothy Lawton, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath my title of "Woburn High's Resident Ladies Man" to some very lucky freshman.

I, Caitlin McClay, and I, Heather Stirling, hereby will the likeness of Jake and Gabe to all those trapped in Drivers Ed.

I, Shaun Keeley, hereby will my athletic abilities to those who are constantly getting hit in the head in dodge ball.

I, Kevin Parlee, hereby will my ability to not get sent down to Mrs. Andrew's office to anyone who will have a freshman year like me.

This on the fourth day of June, two thousand and six.

Class of 2006

A True Friend

Excitement and fear fill our hearts
Soon a new way of life will start.
Thirteen school years have passed,
But, in our minds the memories last.

We've been through it all.
And realized who our true friends are.
The ones that were there,
When no one else seemed to care.

So, as our school year comes to an end,
I want to say thanks for being a true friend.

If you listen closely in any hallway or class those who were there before us and inspired

“I will miss the unique character of “7” building - ... the old cafe, the auditorium, big offices and classrooms, and of course the climb to 7-4!”

Mr. Shaughnessy, Assistant Principal 1998 to present and WHS Class of 1971

“I will always remember the front circular driveway and the front entrance. Back in 1949 there were no cars parked out front and the grounds were beautiful with flowers, trees, and rocks. From afar the stonewall enclosed all of this and made it look majestic.” G. William Harvey, Class of 1954

“I will miss the big windows that opened wide on a hot day and the bars on them.”

Joanne Garbino, Class of 1973

“My favorite place is the old auditorium that hosted many special occasions in my life... dances, assemblies, senior reception, and graduation. The architecture of the building is beautiful. The main entrance was the gateway to the happiest times of my life.”

Janet Murray Bruno, Class of 1954

“I will always cherish Connolly Stadium. It was built like no other stadium. The closeness of the school building, the height of the stands, Cheapskate Hill and the home field winning tradition will never be duplicated.”

Edward Maguire, Class of 1983

“The Harlow Library was on the second floor and as the school grew it became the language labs. One of my strongest memories is the extreme temperatures due to the large glassed area in the new addition. Hot in the spring and extremely cold in the winter.”

Mr. Joseph Curran, Teacher, Former Housemaster and Assistant Principal of Woburn High School.

“I will miss the corridor between the old café and the new wing and how it zig-zagged. I will also miss seven-four.”

Captain Jim Martin, Woburn Police Department, Class of 1969

“I will always remember the many staircases, especially the one going to building seven-four. I also loved the wooded floors that were up there.”

Carolyn Young Rosa, Class of 1980

“You could never cross the hallway into the other building when the school was divided into Junior and Senior high school. I will always remember the Grand March into the old auditorium with our parents seating in the balcony.”

Margie Murray Landry, Class of 1963

room and look about, you can hear and see us to continue Woburn's great traditions.

“Remember how long it took to get from one building to another? From building 8 to building 1. I also will miss walking into the old auditorium.”

Elisa Doherty Roche, Class of 1982

“I think of the old auditorium and the beautiful statues, wood-work and balconies.”

Rita Lombard Owen, Class of 1954

“I remember that the 7th grade classes were in the “cellar” of Building 8.”

Betty Dango, Class of 1941

“I will never forget how the wooden desks were bolted into the floor. The desks had a hole in it for an ink well and many names carved into it.”

Bryan Murphy, Class of 1975

“I will miss the character of the school. The woodwork as well as the granite and tile is something that can't be duplicated. I will miss the sound of the lockers slamming shut, the squeak of the sneakers on the old gym floor, and the way the courtyards looked in the winter.”

Chris Kisiel, Class of 1982

“I will miss the hallway of building 7 and the beautiful wide oak doors and doorways, and the feeling of a historical building.”

Marianne L. Andrew, Assistant Principal 2001 to present

“There is great history in this building and everytime I think of my office area, I pause to remember all those who have seved in it since 1906..Orel Bean, Henry Blake, Jim Foley...those who made this all work for over 150 years.”

Mr. Robert Norton, Principal, 1993 to present

“The naming of the library, auditorium, and cafeteria after teachers and school committee members. The WE3 wall outside the auditorium with teachers names who were graduates of Woburn High. The walls near the gym that are decorated with tributes to our finest athletes.”

Dr. Louise Mary Nolan, Former Assistant Superintendent Woburn Public Schools

“I will always remember the old auditorium and how festive it looked when we finished decorating it for our dances.”

Shirley Anderson Lundin, Class of 1957

Innitou Yearbook Staff

We were extremely fortunate to have such an extrodiairy yearbook staff. They have worked countless hours to publish this yearbook and it really shows! We are so proud of all of you!

Thank you to Marianne for beautiful theme writing; Heather for her meticulous detail skills; Lindsay for keeping all the records so organized; Sam for her creative touch; Caitlin for her dedication, and to Brianna for her outstanding sport pages. We will truly miss this hardworking and dedicated team.

This yearbook is truly special because it not only reflects on the past four years but on the past 150 years of Woburn High School. Your yearbook is a historical reference for the school and the community of Woburn.

Find a quiet place to enjoy reading the stories, laughing at the photos and looking back at your younger years. Your class will always have the honor of being the last class to graduate from the old high school.

Those who inspire

It was now time to move on to the next item they found. It was an old and dingy wooden cabinet. This cabinet burst with a century of memories when opened. There was an assortment of objects many of us had never seen before or were unfamiliar with. There were common things back then like boxes of chalk and a ruler. Less common items like ink wells and ink pens were in the drawers as well. There were sheets of carbon paper, red pens, rank books and even an old duplicating machine. The last item they found was an old fashioned manual typewriter.

All these items represented the teachers who have worked at Woburn High. Without these individuals none of us would be where we are today. For about 180 days each year, we sat at our desks, took the tests, and (most of the time) we did the homework. We would spend class watching the clock, complained when the tests were too hard, and cringed when we were given homework on Fridays. But in the end, we should be thankful. Our teachers have given us the knowledge and the skills to graduate and begin our lives as adults, just like students who graduated before us.

If we were to flip through the pages of past yearbooks, we would probably find many of our own teachers. It is also quite possible that our teachers would find teachers they had when they were students just like us. The faculty of Woburn Memorial High School is unique. Many of the former students who desired to become teachers themselves have returned to the same classrooms where they once sat as students to begin the cycle all over again.

Our Cafe Workers

In Memory of Robert Winson 1942- 2005

We sadly say good-bye to a dear friend who dedicated 38 years of service at Woburn High.

Mr. Winson touched the lives of many students as a math teacher and a guidance counselor. He will also be remembered by over 3,000 students who participated in Drivers Education program.

Bob shared many stories with us and amused us with his humor. He will be missed.

Behind the scenes

The “time travelers” were hungry for more of what was in the capsule. They reached for another item, a beat up old guitar case and an art box rested next to each other. In addition, assorted playbills from school plays over the years were prevalent in number. Inside a small forgotten case were a silver harmonic and a kazoo that had seen better days. There were many drawings that former students had done, old paintbrushes and oil paints. The talent of the art students was evident as it is today.

The Woburn High students of both past and present have always been involved in more than the traditional academic classroom. With the variety of different courses offered, it has allowed students to become well-rounded individuals. Back then there were courses just for girls, Home Economics and courses just for boys, Industrial Art. The Business course prepared students for a career-based job such as becoming secretary or an accountant.

Currently, students studying a foreign language can participate in an exchange program that allows them to experience the culture firsthand. Students 100 years ago would of never dream of attending classes in a foreign country. Whatever the desire, there is something here for everyone.

Evening of Fine Art

Kayleigh - "I love it!"

In the spring of 2005, "An Evening of Fine Art" was held in the historic Flaherty Auditorium. The evening showcased art work from many students in elementary, middle, and high school. The Woburn Guild of Artists and the Art faculty also displayed work.

The evening was a great success and truly showed how many wonderful and talented artists we have in the Woburn Public school system.

Inspiration

The public enjoys the show.

Still working through the contents of the capsule, the students came across a scrap book containing the pride of those who cared enough to assemble the contents. A diploma, a yellowing college application, a resume...the seniors left remembrances of what their senior year held, remembrances that are not so different from what senior year represents to the graduates of today.

Most of us have 18 years under our belt by now, and what an 18 years it has been! It is hard to believe that we were once wearing diapers and watching Sesame Street. Now we are sporting designer clothes and watching Laguna Beach. There were the more simplistic days of elementary school when kickball was a favorite activity and lunch boxes were all the rage. Middle school made us a little more fashion conscious and the movies and the mall were the places where everyone hung out on the weekend. Now, many of us have after school jobs and are licensed drivers. It is unclear just when and how it happened, but we all grew up. However, that does not mean that those cherished times are gone and lost forever. This section highlights what has been our journey through life and the memories we have made along the way.

Senior year-some may see it as the end; some may see it only as another beginning. In reality, it is both. We are leaving high school, leaving friends, and some of us are even leaving home. But this is only another chapter in our lives. Some of us may go on to college, and will make new friends. Others may start jobs after graduation. Whatever life after high school has in store, it will be different for each of us.

Elementary school is where it all began. Back then the worst thing that could have happened to you was catching cooties. School was about meeting new friends and having fun. We began to pick out our own outfits that wouldn't match, and that didn't matter. Life was so simple back then.

Then we went to middle school, where once again we were met new people and made new friends. Some friendships were lost, and others were found. Cooties didn't matter anymore and clothes had to match. Life began to get more complicated as we grew older.

The next Tara Lipinski.

Hampton Beach with style.

As unbelievable as it may be, we were not always the potty-trained, automobile-driving, money-spending teenagers our parents have come to know. There was a time when our cell phones were not attached to our ears, and Legos were more fun than instant messaging.

Glo-worms helped us sleep at night, and our fingers were our eating utensils of choice. We have changed a lot in years since we were first learning how to walk and say our first words.

Easter Bunny surprise!

On the day we were born, we began the learning process. It has continued all the way through elementary school, middle school, and now high school. As we leave here the learning process will continue. Everything we have achieved and the memories we have made, will now be with us for the rest of our lives.

Day in the life

After using a bolt cutter on an old combination lock, the old black and orange locker was finally open. A class schedule, a punched bus card, an old transistor radio were discovered. The daily life of a student has certainly evolved, but some elements of life remain constant.

While today's student rushes for a parking spot with a Dunkin Donut's coffee in hand and chills at night in front of the computer checking e-mail and IM (instant messaging) each other. Yesterday's student may have walked to class with friends like us but at night enjoyed listening to the radio at home with their family. All generations followed their schedule to class, enjoyed the constancy of lunch with their friends, and looked forward to that final bell that granted them the freedom of the day.

Everyday- the same routine. At some ungodly hour the alarm goes and it is time to drag us out of bed. The night's sleep, which is never enough, was filled with worries of a big exam or a project still unfinished. Still half asleep, we throw on some clothes, grab our books and it is off we go. We rush to homeroom to listen to morning announcements and finish first period's homework. From class to class we go, passing each other in the halls. After a quick stop at our locker, which more than likely did not open on the first try, it is off to another 40 or so minutes of taking notes and listening to a teacher's discussion.

By third period, we are awake and our only thought is lunch. We stare at the clock at the end of fourth period, counting down the seconds until we can silence that voice in our stomach. The short twenty minutes given for such a task is the highlight of the day for many. While some see it as a time to socialize others are solely concerned with how quickly they can inhale their food. Either way, this break is much anticipated.

After lunch, all we can think about is the end of school. Seventh period seems like eternity when you know freedom is so close. Some lucky seniors have open campus and may leave after period six. While the time after school means sports for some, it also means work for others. Somewhere in our busy schedules we are expected to do hours of homework, not to mention eat and sleep. After a long day, we meet our pillows with delight, only to have to wake up the next morning to do the same thing all over again.

Back in the days...

- Mandatory suits and ties for guys, dresses for girls
- Lots of homework, no time to work after school
- One car per family, few cars at schools
- Most walked two miles to school or took a bus
- There was no attendance policy
- Families had six to seven children
- Class sizes were large
- Double session of school in the early 60's
- Two cafes to have lunch in
- There was no open campus or work study
- School spirit was highly evident everywhere
- Dean of woman checked the length of skirts
- Girls wore white gloves on field trips with that special purse
- Phones did not have dials, you had to call the operator
- Payphones came along for 10 cents a call
- Penny loafers and white bobby socks were all the rage
- Hair styles for boys changed from crew cuts to long hair
- Desks had holes for ink wells and pens

TECHNOLOGY

Technology has come a long way. Now we have flat screen TVs instead of only black and white. People use I Pods to listen to music rather than using a walkman. Now there is a vacuum that vacuums the floors all by itself. DVD players are being used instead of VCRs.

Technology now is very different from how it used to be. There are so many technological advances that are amazing, who knows what they will come up with next.

how your true colors

Perhaps the old footlocker housed in the time capsule contained the most history. After its corroded hinges had been pried open, the contents were spread out on the ground. The students looked at one another, aware of the pride, history, and records they were holding in their hands. There were countless uniforms from numerous different sports. There were baseballs and hockey pucks. There was a football helmet and a tennis racket. And what collection of sports memorabilia would be complete without one of the "stylish" old gym uniforms! For the past century, athletes have celebrated victory and agonized over defeat. Whether we have been in first place or last, Tanner Pride has always united our student body.

Sports have always been important part of Woburn High. Not only has it been an after school activity for many, but it has allowed some of our most talented athletes to showcase their skills. While the sports themselves have not changed much in the past one hundred years, there have been a few changes. There once was a time when football players did not wear helmets and safety was not a top concern. Perhaps one of the biggest changes is that more women's sports have been added. This has given our female athletes their opportunity to shine as well.

Whether it has been as an athlete or just a spectator, sports have allowed every student to become involved and show school spirit. Just like in years past, the students today and in the future will still look forward to every chance to beat Winchester at the Thanksgiving Day game and will keep on singing "Black and Orange".

TANNER PRIDE

Many students today do not realize that their team mascot name "Tanner" comes from the fact that Woburn was one of the biggest Tannery Towns in Massachusetts. The true meaning of "Tanner Pride" was started in 1973 when Coach Sullivan had 10,000 bumper stickers printed with the words "Tanner Pride." The Tanner Bull mascot was designed in the 1970's by art teacher Frank Newark.

SPORTS TALK

- Old style uniforms and fancy bloomer gym uniforms
- Boster dances before the football games
- Superbowl Wins, State Championships, League Titles
- Sleigh rides given by the Athletic Association
- Letterman sweaters and jackets
- Flag corp, tumblers, baton twirlers
- Hockey being played in the Lynn Arena
- Bowling, Archery and Badmitten were popular sports
- Equal rights for girls playing sports - Title 9 in 1972

Getting involved

A ivory chess piece, the school newspapers originally called Tanners News, a corrodng trumpet, a National Honor Society pin, conveys the life of a Woburn High student represented in the emblems of the various clubs...some not so different from us now. Students have never been limited to just academics and sports. Clubs have provided an outlet for people to share their ideas, become involved and meet others with the same interests. It is possible to pursue an activity in an area of school where one excels, such as math or science teams, or become involved with a group that enjoys the same hobby, like the ski and snowboard club. Many groups are involved with community service. While the activities vary, the goal remains the same, to better oneself and help each other.

Throughout the years, the options offered have changed. There was once a time when one could participate in such things like the highly coveted chess club or the traffic squad. Future teachers and nurses use to organize to prepare for their prospective careers. And of course, what would school have been without a ping pong club.

With the passing of time comes change. While you can no longer be a drum majorette or join the Hi-teen Fashion Club, new groups have been formed. It is now possible to be a DARE role model or a peer mediator, for example. Even though times have changed, one thing still remains, whatever your interest, there is bound to be a club for you at Woburn High.

dancing Away

The students tenderly lifted an old round hat box from the capsule. Inside was a pair of long white gloves, one glass slipper and a beaded gown revealed special occasions of days gone by. This beautiful dress could tell its own story from who made it and spent the long tedious hours to sewing beads on, to who proudly became "Queen of the Prom". Also inside were bunches of old dance cards and a dried corsage. There were old 78 and 45 records and 8-tracks of songs that many had not heard of. All these treasures were from many dances throughout the years.

Dances are the highlight for many during their four years of high school. It has given many of us something to look forward to. Weeks of preparation and usually an excessive amount of money go into just one night; one night when we try and look our best (not as if we needed a reason to look good). While it gives girls an excuse to spend nine hours in the bathroom and guys a reason to comb their hair, the time and effort are always worth the memories. Whether the night was spent as the center of attention in the middle of the dance floor or as a wallflower in the corner, dances are some of the fondest high school memories.

Interesting Prom Facts:

- 1916 - WHS prom was from 8-midnight with the Feeney's Orchestra playing all night long.
- 1950's & 60's - Held in Flaherty Auditorium and parents were invited to watch from the balcony.
- 1965 - Proms moved to "New" cafeteria
- 1969 - Senior prom was held for the first time outside of WHS at the Montvale Plaza.

As the students finished packing up the contents of the time capsule, some wondered about the important impact of so many found treasures. The saying "Home is where the Heart is" can be true to all that the time capsule represents. Each item was placed there for a reason – for a memory.

Woburn High has been home to thousands of students and staff for over the last 150 years, whether it be in the first building on Main Street or this current building on Montvale Avenue. The high school on Montvale Avenue has seen a lot of changes during the last 100 years, from opening its front doors in 1906 to closing them behind us in 2006.

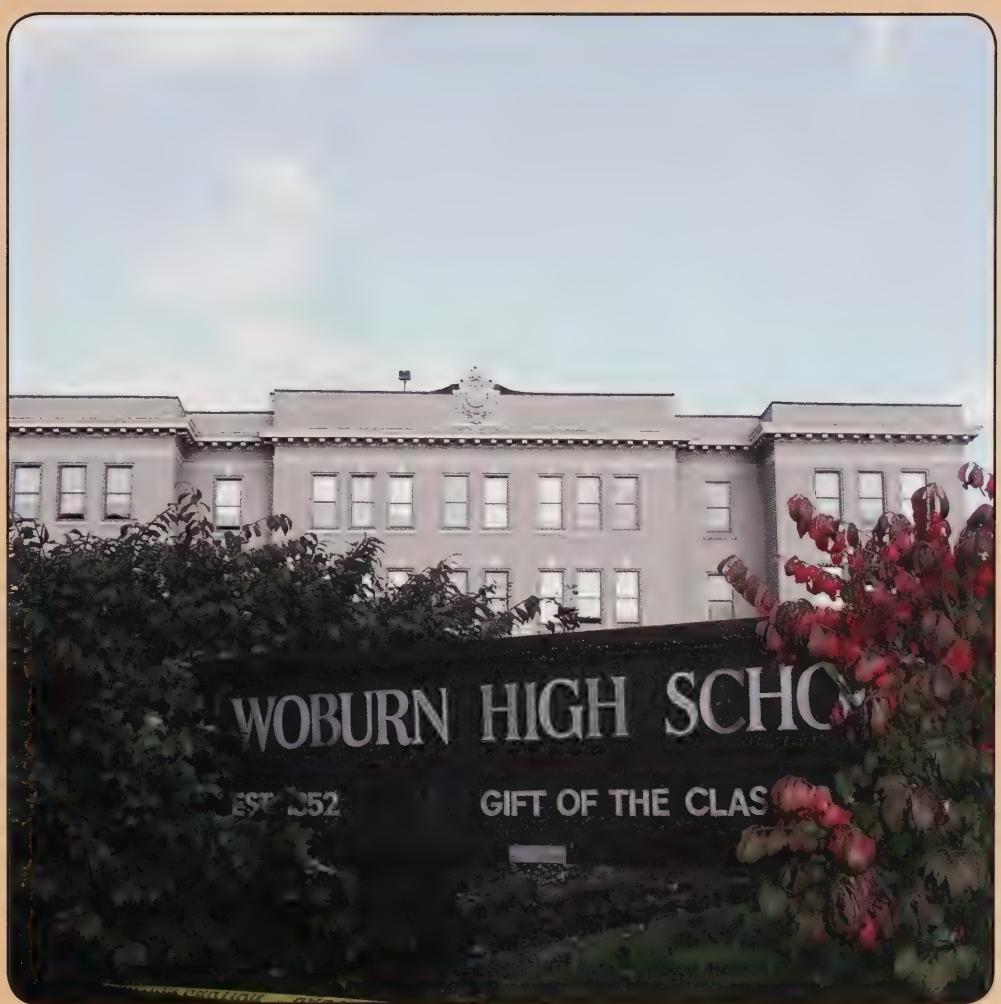

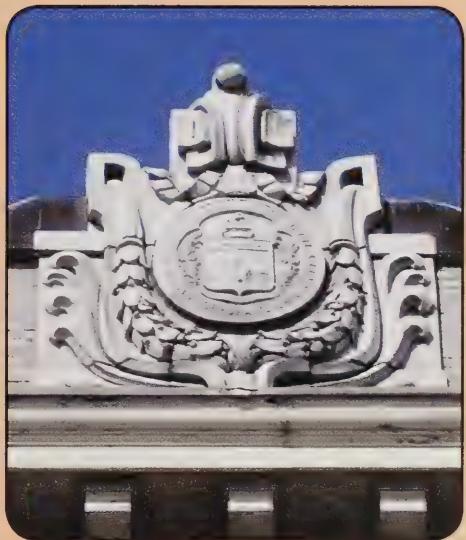

The time has come for this building to be placed in the memory books as we make room for a NEW high school. Yes, The Class of 2006 will be remembered as the last senior class to walk these halls. But all the memories of school will linger on forever on our hearts.

Hanson School

Interesting building facts about WHS

1852 - The town rented the Knight building for the $1,200 to start a high school. The Knight building was located on Main Street.

1854 - The town voted to build a new high school at the cost of $11,701. This was the Hudson school later called the Hanson School. First graduating class consisted of ten girls and one boy.

1903 - The old Dow Farm on Montvale Avenue was selected for a new high school. The land was purchased for $18,000.

1905 - The foundation was started and in 1906 the construction began for the total building cost of $132,102.

1907 - Building opens in the Fall of 1907. It was primarily attended by girls until World War II.

1922 - New building became inadequate due to increased enrollment so a portable classroom was added.

1930 - Two wings (Buildings 6 and 8) were built for $650,000 at the height of the depression. Senior and Junior high classes were held there.

1964 - A new addition (Buildings 1,2,3,4, and 5) were built. Two gyms, library, cafeteria and classrooms were added for $3.3 million.

1964 - Junior high students (grades seven through nine) were moved to the East Junior High now called the Kennedy Middle School.

1988 - The junior high concept change to the Middle school concept, grades six through eight. The ninth graders moved into the high school – thus beginning a new four years of high school.

2001 - Woburn High School is put on probation by the New England Accreditation Association for poor facilities.

2002 - Woburn WINS committee under the direction of Mayor John Curran was formed. The committee started a grassroots campaign to support the debt exclusion override proposal for the building of a new high school and Malcolm White Elementary school.

June 8, 2002 - The people of the City of Woburn voted for a historic override. The voting took place at one location – Woburn High School. The vote was won by almost a 2 to 1 margin.

January 2004 - Ground breaking for the new school took place at Connolly Stadium behind the current high school.

September 2006 - The new Woburn Memorial High school will open.

*May we always walk with memories
Of our years at Woburn High.
May they never be forgotten,
May our friendships never die.
Now we travel on our own way,
Keeping our dreams in the past.
These four years of joy and laughter
Meant so much but fled so fast.*

*May our future bring us gladness;
May our paths be bright;
May all the knowledge
we have gathered
Be our special guiding light.
Now it's time to leave forever,
With a parting, saddened sigh.
We look back and we'll remember-
Black and Orange, Good-bye.*

Jacqui Barrett

Jac,

We love you for your honesty, we love you for your sincerity. We love you cause you make us smile; we love you 'cause you go the extra mile, yeah, yeah. Always be yourself! You're a wonderful girl! Remember, baby steps.

Don't stop dreaming!

1-7 Love,

Mom and Greg

Our Dearest Jacqui,

For all the joys that Lilla and I have had watching you grow up, none have been more satisfying than watching you generously give of yourself to your friends. You are kind, energetic and a leader! You will always be my special little girl, when "we were four and I slept on the floor. "...In your eyes,"

Thank you Jacqui for always thinking first. We can honestly say that you have a Halo over your head! 1-7 forever!

Love, Dad, Lilla, Matt, Erin, Christian and Butterscotch.

You really were a beautiful "Babe"y and "Babe"y look at you now!!

Babe,

Always follow your dreams and believe in yourself. You are a very special and loving person who has the ability to create a world of beautiful dreams to follow. We love you more than ice cream; we love you more than anything!!!

Love Ya 1-7

Arnie, Uncle Tiom, Tommy and Mike Joe

Jacqui Barrett

"Little" Jacqui-not so little anymore! You are a beautiful young lady inside and out. Your talents amaze me. Thinking of you makes me smile. Keep that lively personality and laughter, they light up a room. May happiness follow you wherever you go, whatever you do.

God bless you! 1-7

All our Love,

Aunt "big" Jackie, Uncle Bob & Nicole and Jess.

To a wonderful granddaughter, neice and cousin,

Jacqui, you have grown from a young girl with a ball of energy always involved in sports and dance yet never loosing sight of the importance of family and education. To a beautiful young lady with the world at her feet. When you told us you were picked as a captain of indoor and outdoor track, we were not surprised at all, proud yes, but not surprised. Your dedication to all you endeavor is first class. We all wish you the very best as you mature through life. The confidence we have that you well succeed is bountiful. Love ya.

Sincerely with Love, 1-7

Gram, Papa, Uncle Mark, Uncle Jerry, Aunt Barb, Teddy, and Emma
